The California Coastal Commission is a state agency charged with protecting coastal resources and managing coastal development in California. The mission of the Commission is to provide for balanced use of the coastal zone and to protect, restore and enhance coastal and marine resources for the continuing benefit of current and future generations. A Coastal Commission internship is a great opportunity to learn more about how a government agency functions and to obtain useful job experience for pursuit of a professional career in land use law or environmental management.

The Position. The Coastal Commission is seeking motivated individuals to assist in the investigation and resolution of Coastal Act violation cases that can involve either unpermitted development activities or activities undertaken in violation of a Commission permit. The position will involve investigation and collection of evidence, analysis of fact patterns; dispute resolution and settlement negotiations; verbal and written contact with alleged violators and work as a member of a team of analysts assigned to the Enforcement Program. The Commission is looking for volunteer interns in Eureka to assist with enforcement cases.

This position(s) requires an understanding of basic environmental terms and concepts and an ability to independently analyze planning, environmental and legal documents. The most important qualifications we seek are: an ability to extract and analyze information from complex files and reports; independent and professional work habits; the ability to take direction and work with others; a commitment to quality work and attention to detail. Computer skills are highly desirable.

We typically request a minimum commitment of 15 to 20 hours per week for a 6-month period, or 30 to 40 hours per week for a 3-month period.

Qualifications. Knowledge of the Coastal Act, the Commission's permit and planning process, CEQA and some experience with legal issues is desired. Persons with the following education and/or work experience would be preferred: land use planning and regulation, environmental law, environmental science, water quality, geology, or related fields. The successful candidate(s) will demonstrate strong analytical skills and the ability to research and interpret legal coastal resource issues. Strong writing and speaking skills and the ability to work as a team member is critical.
